San Pablo Section Raided by Revenue Officers And Two Stills and Contraband are Seized

RAIDERS ARE CONDUCTED TO RENDEZVOUS BY OPERATOR

That the revenue agents on this side of the bay and Chief of Police Wood are still active is evidenced by the two raids that were pulled off late yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of San Pablo. This makes the third successful raid this week.

In both cases the officers made a clean up and secured jackass brandy, mash, one complete still, and a part of a still.

Those arrested were M. G.
Aguiar and Joe Spinach, and both were taken to Oakland before Commissioner Hardy.

The officers evidently knew what they were doing, and had accurate information. All of the outfits seized were taken as evidence, and the mash in both instances was dumped out.

Both of the places were located on what is known as Alvarado road, a highway branching off of the state highway, just after you cross the San Pablo creek bridge and extends westward.

At the M. G. Aguiar place, a quantity of brandy was found, about 100 gallons of mash, and a portion of a still. What became of the other part of the still the officers do not know.
It is stated that Aguiar has been operating for some time.

Almost across the road from the Aguiar place is the Spinach place, and when the officers entered the property and asked if he had a still he blandly said "Yes." Here was found a complete outfit consisting of a complete still of a capacity of about ten gallons a day, four gallons of brandy, 50 gallons of mash, and a quantity of burnt sugar, that is used for coloring.

The officers state that most of the contraband liquor is manufactured from corn, and they are investigating the source of the supply.

Steady Position for Person Able Speak Spanish

Attorney Tsar N. Calfee, who is doing a vast amount of work in finding employment for persons, has a steady situation for a party who is able to speak Spanish. Mr. Calfee is located in the Cunningham building at Ninth and Macdonald.

PEOPLE'S CASE READY SAYS TINNING: BOY BANKER SAYS NOTHING

There will be no delay in the trial of Lester J. Bradshaw, twenty-year-old banker, in the courts of Contra Costa county on charges of defrauding a local bank of ten thousand dollars, so far as District Attorney A. B. Tinning is concerned.

"The case of the people is prepared. We are ready to go to trial at any time," said Tinning to the Record-Herald last night.

"What do you think of the statements credited to Bradshaw to the effect that he had been made the 'goat' in this case?" Tinning was asked.

"I think it's bunk," said Tinning. "I have been informed that Bradshaw maintained something like silence throughout the voyage, insofar as indicating what defense he might offer at the trial," Tinning said.

Bradshaw is not showing any tendency to be loquacious since he landed at Martinez following the long legal fight and the long voyage from Sydney.

Tinning stated that he does not look for any startling disclosures at the trial, but reiterated that the case of the People versus Lester J. Bradshaw is in good shape for the commonwealth.

Defense Ready Say Lawyers

Attorneys Tom Carlson, of the firm of Pierce & Carlson, lawyers retained by Bradshaw, stated to the Record-Herald that their client will be ready to appear and enter his plea in the superior court at Martinez Monday, June 27.

Bradshaw was arraigned before Superior Judge A. B. McKinzie yesterday morning and his bail fixed at $10,000. With him at the time was Attorney Wilbur Pierce.

Bradshaw's Bride Absent

Bradshaw's girl bride was not with him at the time of his arraignment.
She is reported to have stated that she will stand by him to the finish, asserting her belief in his innocence, and declaring him to be "a dear kid," and a "wonderful dancer."

Delays Peeved Sheriff

In discussing his trip briefly on Wednesday morning following his arrival home, Sheriff Veale recounted some of his experiences during the extradition proceedings in Sydney. There were numerous delays he declared and there were times when he feared he would not be successful in gaining the release of his prisoner. The case was about to be decided at one time when a second warrant for Bradshaw arrived and he was then held under two charges which resulted in his bail being raised. Following the arrival of the second warrant, the sheriff states that Bradshaw declared he was becoming tired of fighting the case over there and decided to return to California.

Tapers Flawless, Claim

"There was not a single flaw in all of the extradition documents,"

SHERIFF R. R. VEALE
Who made the trip to Australia and brought Bradshaw back with him.

The sheriff declared, and the only technical ground on which they sought to hold Bradshaw was that the original warrant was not sent, which the Sheriff states was entirely unnecessary.

At one time during a court hearing of the case, Veale states, the judge speaking from the bench said, "and how are we to know that this party is the Sheriff of Contra Costa county?" The sheriff was sitting a short distance from the judge and he pulled back his coat revealing his badge of office. The court saw the gold badge and then went on "Well, I guess he is the sheriff alright."

"Point" Masons are Visited by Members of Durant Lodge

Last Tuesday evening Durant lodge No. 268, F. & A. M. of Berkeley visited the Point Lodge which meets in Fraternal hall and conferred the third or Master Masons degree in a masterly exemplification of the work. Later, the Berkeley lodge presented the Point Lodge with an elegant bible.

C. C. Olney and A. D. Jones, worshipful masters respectively of Alpha and McKinley lodges, were present, together with other officers and members from Richmond, and after the formal work of the evening, there was an informal luncheon, and several impromptu after dinner talks followed.

OFFICIAL PAPER CITY OF RICHMOND

THINKOGRAPHS by F. J. HULANISKI

THIS COUNTRY ALL RIGHT

Recent books and pamphlets, hundreds of magazine articles and quite a bit in the newspapers tend toward pessimism in discussing the present economic conditions, and paint a gloomy picture of the future. One English writer goes so far as to prophesy that America will soon split up into as many separate federal governments and countries as it now has states, all same Europe, and says our civilization is breaking down.
This pessimism and prediction of gloom comes from some other reason than facts, as there is little or nothing in the outlook to justify anything of the sort. It is probably a sort of nervousness or hysteria brought about by the war and its conditions. Everybody was on a mental strain for a number of years, and the whole world was turned upside down, until as an aftermath many let their vivid and morbid imaginations run away with their good common sense. The federal government took hold and got to be a regular paternal government, which told us what we should do and what we should not do, what we should eat and how much, what we could say and what we could not talk about; it censured the public press and the public utterances, and incidentally it raised our taxes from one billion a year to two billions. So a lot of us got to looking upon the government as a sort of stepfather that should provide for us, when in fact we must not only provide for ourselves but for the government also.
Many men ought to know that no one is liable to help him, much less the government; that he must help himself, by good work, good conduct, thrift and industry. We have too many "upbuilders," and rather few who are traveling over the country delivering lectures at so much per talk than at so much per hour. We are harvesting hay or husking peas, or digging potatoes, or doing something in the way of production other than hot air. All we as a people need to do is to get back to normal.
Mind our own business, put in an honest day's work every day, economize sanely and do as we would be done by, and this great country and a great majority of its people will come out all right, and thrive and prosper and grow, the same as it always has. But a gas mask on the croaking frogs. It is not the country or the people that are out of whack half so much as the livers and the heads of the pessimists who are wearing out more lead pencils and typewriters than their nicks are worth.

Why don't the electric lighting companies run some scheme to utilize the aurora borealis?

The savage who first lit a fire with a dry stick and dry leaves remains unknown, and the individual who invented or introduced or inflicted the world with the hot air or steam radiator is equally obscure.

If our wounded soldiers who are hobbling around on crutches and crutches while they wait for the government aid that was due them several years ago could eat medals and fine speeches they would at least have something in their stomachs when hungry.

A committee of clergymen have presented to President Harding a petition asking him to call an international conference to discuss reduction of armaments. It was signed by 20,503 Protestant clergymen, Catholic priests and Jewish rabbis. We are neither minister, priest or rabbi, but favor the petition, just the same. Such a conference should have been called a year ago or more.

Shopper: "I want to get a fashionable skirt." Saleslady: "Yes, Madam, will you have it too light or too short?"

Your judgment is for use mainly in your own affairs, and not in the affairs of others.

READ GOOD BOOKS

We have been preaching editorially long and often that it is education that must and will bring the remedies for the evils of which most of us complain, and H. G. Wells, whose writings are just now attracting world-wide attention, says that very thing in his book, "The Salvaging of Civilization." That is a book that ought to be in every home and be read over and over by every member of the family, old enough to comprehend. It is intensely interesting, besides pointing out a thousand pertinent truths. It is a tremendous task to pull the world upward. Most human beings, says Wells, live their own lives, day by day, going lug-gishly along, and know little of "the huge task of political and educational reconstruction" which is needed to arrest the present drift of human affairs toward catastrophe. But "natural dispositions" can be changed, men can be awakened, and the world can be made beautiful. Wells believes devoutly in education. Man can make himself better and wiser because his mind makes him free from the primitive scheme of the survival of the fittest and because he goes on learning right up to the end of life. That makes modern man different from all other animals—that feeling in his adult life that there remains something still to be investigated and wisdom still to be acquired. Wells puts his faith in teaching men the plain truth about the world and he believes in starting with the young.

The statesmen of France insist on calling the young men to the army, although France is bankrupt as a result of war. The young men, or a good many of them, are rioting, and say that while war is always the worst possible sin against humanity it is particularly unnecessary and foolish now. The young men are right.

It has just been discovered, according to the dispatches, that alfalfa juices are very good for tuberculosis. Glad it is good for something, for if things continue much longer the way they have been a lot of us are going to have to picket ourselves out and eat it.

The coal strike in progress in England is contagious, it is said, as much per day as the late war did. The striking miners admit that the operators cannot pay the enormous wages for mining and sell coal at current prices, and so they demand that the government vote a subsidy to make up the difference. This is a foolish, unnatural and ruinous demand, yet they quit work to enforce it and may engage in civil war before they get through.

State figures indicate that the number of marriages in California are going to be much larger this year than last, and last year they ran up into the tidy figures of 44,544 weddings.
Wherever you find them the Americans are a brave people.

Every editor gets communications from people telling just what the government ought to do about this thing or that, and nine out of ten of them contain suggestions that are not only impractical but utterly impossible. About the only reform within reach is that we each and all behave a little better, be temperate, fair, industrious, polite and sensible. Those who try this find success much nearer and life more pleasant.

The man who took Stillman's place as president of the National City Bank of New York, one of the largest banking institutions in the world, was working fifteen years ago at ten dollars a week. The history of a majority of our great and successful men is about the same. They began at the bottom and worked up mostly by hard and persistent work.

A MAN FOR THE AGES

A STORY OF THE BUILDERS OF DEMOCRACY

A Story of the Builders of Democracy

By Irving Bacheller

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Samson and Sarah Taylor, with their two children, Joseph and Selma, travel by wagon from their home in Vergennes, Vt., to the West, the land of plenty. Their destination is the County of Contra Costa, in Illinois.

CHAPTER II.—At Niagara Falls they meet a party of immigrants, among them a youth named John McNeil, who also comes to go to the Sangamon country. All of the party suffer from fever and ague. Sarah's ministrations save the life of the youth, Harry Needles. In the meantime of fever, and the accompanying ravages, they reach New Salem, Illinois, and are welcomed by young "Abe" Lincoln.

CHAPTER III.—Among the Taylors' first acquaintances are Lincoln's friends, Jack Kelso and his pretty daughter, Sam, 14 years of age.

"I bet you four bits I don't," said Kelso.

"You are my friend; I would not take your money like that so easy. No! It would not be right. There are Scotch goods, gentlemen—so rare and beautiful—nothing like them in the world."

He began to undo his pack while the little company stood around him.

"Zedema, you can see but you cannot buy. Only my friend can have Scotch goods," he went on glibly as he removed the cover of the pack.

Suddenly there was a lively stir in it. To the amazement of all a beautiful girl threw aside the ticking and leaped out of the large wicker basket it had covered. With a merry laugh she threw her arms around Jack Kelso's neck and kissed him.

The men clapped their hands in merry merriment.

"That's like him, isn't it?" said the Doctor.

"Exactly!" Abe exclaimed.

"I stop at David Barney's and dere he took de goods out o' my pack an' he put 'em up dere for you," said Eli with a laugh.

"A real surprise party!" the girl exclaimed.

She was a small-sized girl, nearing sixteen, with red cheeks and hazel eyes and blonde hair that fell in curls upon her shoulders.

"Mr. Taylor, this is my daughter Sam," said Kelso. "She is skilled in the art of producing astonishment."

"She must have heard of that handsome boy at the tavern and got in a hurry to come home," said the Doctor.

"Ann Rutledge says that he is a right purty boy," the girl laughed as she brushed her curls aside.

CHAPTER IV.

Which Presents Other Log-Cabin Folk and the First Steps in the Making of a New Home and Certain Capabilities and Incapacities of Abe.

Next morning at daylight two parties went out in the woods to cut timber for the home of the newcomers. In one party were Harry Needles, carrying two axes and a well-filled lunch; in the other, Samson with a saw and ax and a small jug of root beer and a book tied in a big red handkerchief and slung around his neck. When they reached the woods Abe cut a pole for the small boy and carried him on his shoulder to the creek and laid him.

"Now you sit down here and keep order in this little frog city. If you hear a frog say anything improper you fetch him a whack. Don't allow any nonsense. We'll make you mayor of Frog City."

The men fell to with axes and saws while Harry limbed the logs and looked after the mayor. Their huge muscles flung the sharp axes into the timber and gnawed through it with the saw. Many big trees fell before noon time when they stopped for lunch. While they were eating Abe said:

"I reckon we better saw out a few boards this afternoon. Need saw for the doors. We'll tote a couple of logs up on the side o' that knoll, put 'em on skids an' whip 'em up into boards with the saw."

Samson took hold of the middle of one of the logs and rolled it from the ground.

"I guess we can carry 'em," he said. "You go shoulder 'em," Abe said.

Two pinch hitters in the seventh "Easy," said Samson as he raised an end of the log, stepped beneath it and, resting its weight on his back, soon got his shoulder near its center and swung it clear of the ground and walked with it to the knollside where he let it fall with a resounding thump that shook the ground. Abe stopped eating and watched every move in this remarkable performance. The ease with which the big log was rolled and the law of gravitation with that unyielding stick amazed him.

"That thing'll weigh from seven to eight hundred pounds," said he. "I reckon you're the stoutest man in this part o' the state an' I'm quite a man myself. I've lifted a barrel o' whisky and put my mouth to the bung hole. I never drink it."

"Say," he added as he sat down and began eating a doughnut. "If you ever hit anybody take a sledge hammer or a crowbar. It wouldn't be decent to use your fist."

They hewed a flat surface on opposite sides of the log which Samson had carried and peeled it and raised its lower end on a cross timber. Then they marked it with a chalk line and sliced it into inch boards with a whip saw. Abe standing on top of the log and Samson beneath it. Suddenly the saw stopped. A clear, beautiful voice sang the music of "Sweet Nightingale" into the timbered hollow. It halted the workers and set the woodland singing. The men stood silent like those hearing a benediction. The singing ceased. Still they listened for half a moment. It was as if a spirit had passed and touched them.

"It's him—the little vixen!" said Abe tenderly. "She's an odd child and as pretty as a spotted fawn, and about as wild. She's a kind of a first cousin to the bobolink."

When they were getting ready to go home that afternoon Joe got into a great hurry to see his mother. It seemed to him that ages had elapsed since he had seen her—a conviction which led to noisy tears.

Abe knelt before him and comforted the boy. Then he wrapped him in his jacket and swung him in the air and started for home with Joe astride his neck.

Samson says in his diary: "His tender play with the little lad gave me another look at the man Lincoln."

"Some one proposed once that we should call that stream the Minnehaha," said Abe as he walked along. "After this Joe and I are going to call it the Minnehahoo."

The women of the little village had met at a quilting party at ten o'clock with Mrs. Martin Waddell. There Sarah had a seat at the frame and heard all the gossip of the countryside. The nimble-fingered Ann Rutledge—a daughter of the tavern folk—had sat beside her. Ann was a slender, good-looking girl of seventeen with blue eyes and a rich crown of Auburn hair and a fair skin well browned by the sunlight. She was the most enterprising needle worker in New Salem.

John McNeil, whom the Taylors had met on the road near Niagara Falls and who had shared their camp with them, arrived on the stage that evening. He was dressed in a new buttoned suit and clean linen and looked very handsome. Samson wrote that he resembled the pictures of Robert Emmet. With fine, dark eyes, a smooth skin, well-moulded features and black hair neatly brushed on a shapely head he was not at all like the rugged Abe. In a low tone and very modestly, with a slight brogue

IS GORDON IN MUD?

FANS ARE WONDERING

The baseball fans are wondering whether the mud baths up Callistoga way will take the kinks out of Fred Gordon's whip. You know in that game last week when Gordon started for the Barrel House team, the Mechanics' slugger darn near wrecked him in the first inning. They took all the whip out of his arm and had him playing in the field. He took his drubbing good naturedly however, and came up smiling.

The Plan-in Brief

The object of this big distribution is two fold, primarily to increase the already large subscription lists of the Record-Herald, to collect arrearages and advance payments from present, or old subscribers, and at the same time to afford our friends and readers an unparalleled opportunity to profit, and in a big way, through their spare time during the next few weeks. So, it is a plan that works both ways, and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to win this and quickly and advantageously, the most valuable and attractive list of prizes ever offered by a local newspaper in this section of the country, has been made ready for distribution among those who participate most heartily. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success.

The plan adopted is the fairest and most impartial conceivable. There will be no "double vote" offers or any other inducements whatever inaugurated during this campaign. Neither will there be any long-term subscriptions accepted. The plan of the campaign is straight-forward and simple, and is fully outlined in this announcement.

How To Enter The Election

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is not a "beauty" nor "popularity" contest, but a strictly legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and boys and girls, and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this competition is the fact that there will be no losers in this race. The first step, in order to become a candidate and compete for a prize, is to clip the nomination coupon appearing in this issue, fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to the campaign department of the Record-Herald. This coupon entitles you, or the person to whom you might nominate, to 5000 FREE votes. These votes are given you as a starter, and speeds you on your way to win. Only one such nomination coupon will be accepted for each candidate entered.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED

The next step is to call on or write the campaign department for a free working outfit (consisting of a special receipt book, sample copies of the paper and other information relative to launching an active campaign.)

Thus equipped, you have but to go to your friends and neighbors, relatives and acquaintances and have them clip the free coupons from their papers, and pay up a subscription to the Record-Herald through you. THAT'S ALL. THERE IS TO IT. However, you will never win anything unless you make the start; and, while it will not be a very difficult matter to capture one of the big prizes, nevertheless it will be no child's game. You must plan out your campaign the same as any successful business man plans out his work for a season, and above everything else, let no one discourage you, but stick to it to the finish. Anything worth having is worth striving for. Right short weeks and you may be riding in your own automobile.

It takes votes to win, and votes are secured in two ways: First, by clipping the coupons appearing in each issue of the Record-Herald. Begin gathering them NOW. After next week these coupons will be reduced to a lesser number of votes. The only restriction placed on voting coupons is that they must be deposited at the campaign department of the Record-Herald on or before the expiration date printed thereon. Get your friends to saving these coupons for you—they all count.

One other, and faster way, to get votes is by securing new and renewal subscriptions to the Record-Herald. On each subscription turned in a certain number of votes are issued, the number varying according to the amount paid and during which "period" name are received at the campaign department (see schedule of votes below). So, you see, the more subscriptions you secure the more votes you can get and the better your chances are to capture the grand capital prize.

EARLY START MEANS EASY FINISH

The advantages of an early start are manifest. Not only do you have the FULL EIGHT WEEKS in which to secure the winning votes, but now and on to and including Monday, July 25, you will receive the maximum schedule of votes on subscriptions. Then, too, the dirt in the field will undoubtedly get the "cream" of votes and subscriptions, while those who put off entering until a later date will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time waiting to "see what the other fellow is going to do," but pitch right in and show the "other fellow how to do it."

ADVISORY BOARD

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this election, from start to finish, in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interests of participants, and absolute honesty in all dealings is guaranteed.

However, not all wisdom lies with any one man or institution, and for that reason an Advisory Board has been decided upon, whose functions shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might happen to arise during the competition and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and count the votes the last night of the election. The personnel of this board is as follows:

C. C. Olney of "The Fair Day Evening," Chief of Fire Department, H. C. Sullivan, real estate agent, Larkin J. Young of "First National Bank," Arthur Wilson, Superior Zeh Kett, Berling, Schmeider, furniture dealer.

All of these gentlemen are well known to everyone in Richmond and surrounding territory, and the final results as given out by them will be beyond dispute.

THROAT TROUBLE CURED

Oakland, Nov. 1, 1920. To whom a
May Concern:
I suffered from throat trouble for 15 years, during which time I could neither eat nor swallow without pain. I became very weak and was unable to work for months. I had numerous doctors and then tried a Throat specialist, who told me that my trouble was due to the blood.
He advised me to take blood medicine. Thereupon my brother, who had been cured of Stomach Trouble by the FONG WAN HERBS, urged me to try them. After drinking the herbs for 15 weeks, I felt entirely well. I have since gained 25 pounds.
It is 10 months since I took the herbs, and I am now giving this testimonial to let the public know that any sufferer should try the FONG WAN HERBS. I am a watchman for the California Food Specialties Co.

Charles I. Westover Believed to Have Perished on Boat

The U. S. S. Conistoga has been placed on the missing list by government officials. For the past three weeks a search of the Pacific ocean has been made but without result, and just what has become of the vessel is not known.

It is thought that Charles I. Westover, a former Richmond boy, was a member of the crew of the ill fated boat. At one time Westover was in the employ of the Standard Oil Company, but about three years ago enlisted in the navy.

If you want the news while it is fresh, take a live newspaper.

BUICK CAR WHICH MADE BIG ROAD RECORD IS TO BE SHOWN IN FILM

Motorists this week will be given an opportunity to inspect the Buick coupe which in January of this year shattered all existing records between San Francisco and Portland. Traveling the 751 miles in 29 hours and 16 minutes, over roads which were covered with deep snow in the Siskiyou mountains and mud throughout the state of Oregon. C. C. Kratzer the Buick agent in Richmond has secured from the Howard Automobile Company the coupe which made this phenomenal record run.

The motion picture film also has been secured and will be shown up on the screen at the showroom of Kratzer tonight and Friday night of this week. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. The Buick coupe was sent through from San Francisco to Portland without a single stop except to take on oil and gasoline. Claude A. McGee and Roy Skinner piloted the car from start to finish, alternating at the wheel.

Despite the gruelling race that the Buick coupe had with the Shasta express on the way north, it finished the race in a driving rainstorm none the worse for its strenuous trip over the mountain grades and through the deep mud which had to be negotiated through certain parts of Oregon.

Some idea of the obstacles the coupe had to overcome in its daring dash from the bay district to the Oregon metropolis can be gained through viewing the motion pictures taken of the Buick in its run through the snow-capped Siskiyou and through the inky darkness of the night, as it sped northward.

No car ever was subjected to a more strenuous journey than was this Buick coupe forced to undergo in breaking all previous records and inasmuch as it was made in mid-winter is the more meritorious, proving the dependability and power of the Buick valve-in-head motor under all sorts of conditions. An inspection of the car which is now on exhibition by Kratzer will convince anyone of the sturdiness of Buick automobiles.

Red Men Will Try And Win $50 Prize

Those yells last night which you thought were a remnant of the Apaches come back to make life terrible to the women and children were the jubilant songs of the Red Men of Onetah Tribe who were doled up in their new feathers and paint just received from a big wigwam on the Great Lakes. They were drilling too, for the competition to be held Saturday evening when Tecumseh, Ahwahnee and Onetah will try for the fifty dollar prize.

Capt. W. I. Lautenschlager is cocksure that his team will take first honors. The prize is to be awarded by the Past Sachems' Association of Alameda and Contra Costa counties. And Saturday evening fifteen to twenty-five automobiles will mobilize in front of Pythian Castle from which place the tribe hits the trail at 7:15 to Oakland.

The team is made up of Prophet W. I. Lautenschlager, captain; Sachem H. M. Kueffer; Senior Sagamore, Ralph Laughlin; Junior Sagamore, F. L. King; First Sannap, F. L. Granbut; Second Sannap, F. Marichelli; First Brave, W. Campbell; Second Brave, L. Paul; Third Brave, R. Hidge; Fourth Brave, A. G. Edwards; First Warrior, John Church; Second Warrior, E. Kendricks; Third Warrior, R. Barda; Fourth Warrior, E. Foster; First Scout, R. Phale; Second Scout, R. Thomas; Guard of the Wigwam, F. Miller; Chief of Tom Toms, E. J. Esola; Pale Face, L. R. Marshall.

Whist Party Aids Salvation Army

The whist party given at W. O. W. hall last night by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was a success from both a social and financial standpoint. There were fourteen tables, and the receipts were gratifying. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. F. E. Schooler, chairman; Mrs. Grace Black, Mrs. Fred Spliner; Mrs. Alice Jordan and Mrs. I. Hogancamp.

Prizes were won as follows: First ladies, Mrs. Rodan; second ladies, Mrs. J. E. Moore; third ladies, Mrs. Filzer; ladies consolation, Mrs. Maud Foster; first gentleman's, Mr. J. E. Abbott; second gentleman's, J. E. Thompson; third gentleman's, M. Strange; gentlemen's consolation, Mr. Peters. Door prize went to Mrs. Radcliffe; for hold most sixes, Mr. Trautvetter.

M. E. Drum, well known character analyst will deliver a lecture at the Richmond clubhouse this evening. His talk will be on character analysis and its application. The public is cordially invited to attend the lecture. There will be no admission charge.

La Moine Becomes Owner of Valuable Boyle Property

By the placing of a deed on record at Marlines yesterday, Fred B. La Moine, druggist, becomes the owner of the valuable property at the corner of Ninth and Macdonald, now occupied by S. E. Kurtz, the clothier and other business firms. The property was purchased from Mrs. Ida Boyle.

According to the revenue stamps on the document, the consideration is in the neighborhood of $40,000. The property is a two story brick structure, and is considered one of the choicest locations in the city.

It is Mr. LaMoine's intention immediately to convert the ground into one of the finest drug stores on the coast.

Just a Few Words About Repairs and Parts

We have in charge of our repair department a mechanic who has been constantly connected with this make of car since its first inception and during the war he was in charge of one of the Government repair camps across the pond, where thousands of these cars were kept in tune. Incidentally we may state that the U. S. Government purchased 14,000 of this popular make of cars and this was the only type of car in this class used. Nearly all Dodge Brothers Car owners take their cars here when in need of repairs and it is to the owners advantage to have their cars taken care of by competent mechanics. There is no other place where you can secure the genuine DODGE BROTHERS SERVICE and we carry the genuine parts only. Our charges for repairs are not any more than outside shops and in many cases much less.
